The annual spring meeting of the Conservative Friends of Yonge St. was held in two sessions, morning and afternoon, at the Yonge St. meeting house Sunday.

Two services of worship were observed at which Friends from Norwich, Pickering, Toronto, Aurora and Newmarket and district were present.

At the business meeting of the society, the use of alcohols in medicines and provincial legislation increasing the outlets for beer and liquor were criticized. It was reported that $8,000 had been raised by the Friends' campaign and eight tons of cod liver oil sent overseas as aid for Europe.

The Yonge St. meeting house was erected in 1808-10, and was the first house of worship built north of York. The meeting house served the needs of Friends who left the United States because of the persecutions the members of the sect suffered and who settled in the area between Holland Landing and Aurora. The Friends were led by Timothy Rogers who in 1801, was granted 40 farms of 200 acres each.

Among those present at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Rogers, Miss Gretta Rogers, Mrs. Wilhelmina Rose, Mrs. John Mathew, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cody, Mrs. J. Trewella, Mrs. G. E. Case, Mrs. G. L. Manning, Mrs. E. Western, Mrs. N. J. Roads, Mrs. Robert Murray, Miss Leonora Starr, Mrs. Florence Boyd, Miss Holdich, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. ### 'Big Ben' In Post Office Goes On Daylight Time

Along with the rest of Newmarket, the post office clock went on daylight saving time Sunday, but unlike the pocket watch, the mantel clock and the alarm clock, Newmarket's "Big Ben" was put ahead an hour at 2 a.m. on the dot in keeping with the requirements of the official proclamation. The rest of us changed our clocks before going to bed Saturday night or on Sunday.

The clock in the post office tower was installed 36 years ago and is still running as good as new except that the hands are a bit loose and apt to show it in gains and losses when birds or other air-borne obstacles connect with them.

The clock mechanism is in the tower room and is operated by weights. It can run 100 hours but is rewound twice a week. The bell of the clock is in a room below the clock and is rung by a trip hammer operating by cable from the clock mechanism overhead.

C.O. OF CAMP SAYS 'THANKS' FOR TOWN AID

"It has been a great partnership," Lieut. Col. Newton M. Young, former commanding officer of the Newmarket training centre, wrote in a letter for publication this week. "There have been few places in Canada throughout the war where the same spirit of harmony and cooperation has prevailed from the earliest days of the camp. I don't think there is on record one instance of disorderly conduct or one complaint that has been made officially by the town to the camp or the camp to the town."

Col. Young paid tribute to the town workmen for their efforts on behalf of the camp. Saying that he had written to the other agencies which had helped the camp, he commented on the "kindly treatment" the men received in Newmarket homes.

A second letter to Mrs. N. L. Mathews, as representative of the soldiers' club, expressed thanks for the work of the club among the men. Speaking of the women who gave so freely of their time and energy to maintain the club, Col. Young writes:

"I know that your work was done out of pure patriotism and I have some conception of the sacrifices you ladies made in giving up your evenings, night after night and year after year, in this patriotic service which gave so beneficial a result. And while it was for a cause, it remains for me to thank you both in the name of that cause and for the personal assistance that you gave me in my task here."

The camp reported "nil personnel" on March 30 and at present, only a small rear party is there to keep up maintenance work. Col. Young leaves the camp Friday.

SALVAGE COLLECTION EAST SIDE OF TOWN

The Boy Scouts will be making the rounds of the east side of Newmarket this Saturday to collect waste paper, cardboard boxes, old magazines and newspaper. There is still a need for paper salvage and the Boy Scouts, through the sale of salvage, are able to help finance the cost of camping equipment. H. J. Luck is chairman of the group committee of the Scouts, and in charge of the collection.

ENTERTAIN BOWLERS

Members of the winning team of the 1945-46 bowling alley tournament, their wives and friends, were entertained at the home of their captain, Sid Simmons, on Saturday night. A pleasant evening was spent playing euchre, after which refreshments were served. The team consists of Loyal Bell, Harry Wesley, Percy Pemberton, Sid Simmons, Gordon Close and Ernie Bennett. Harry Wesley was elected captain for the next season.

SATURDAY TAG DAY

There will be a tag day on behalf of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind on Saturday. Mrs. J. E. Morris, Newmarket, is campaign chairman.

Light Brackets Placed On West Main St. Storefronts

Town workmen, under the supervision of Angus Morrison, town superintendent, have been busy in recent weeks placing electric light brackets on the fronts of stores on the west side of Main St. preparatory to removing the poles.

Brackets were installed as far north on Main St. as Millard Ave. A pole was placed in front of Trinity United church for one light, and two more brackets have been placed on the old hotel building at Millard Ave.

With the brackets in place and hooked up, it is anticipated that the poles on the west side of Main St. will be removed and the curbing taken up, adding additional width to Main St. "We are only working on the west side because the electric power circuit runs up the rear of the buildings instead of in front of the buildings as on the east side of Main St." Mr. Morrison said. "Before we can do anything about the east side of Main St., it will be necessary to change the wiring."

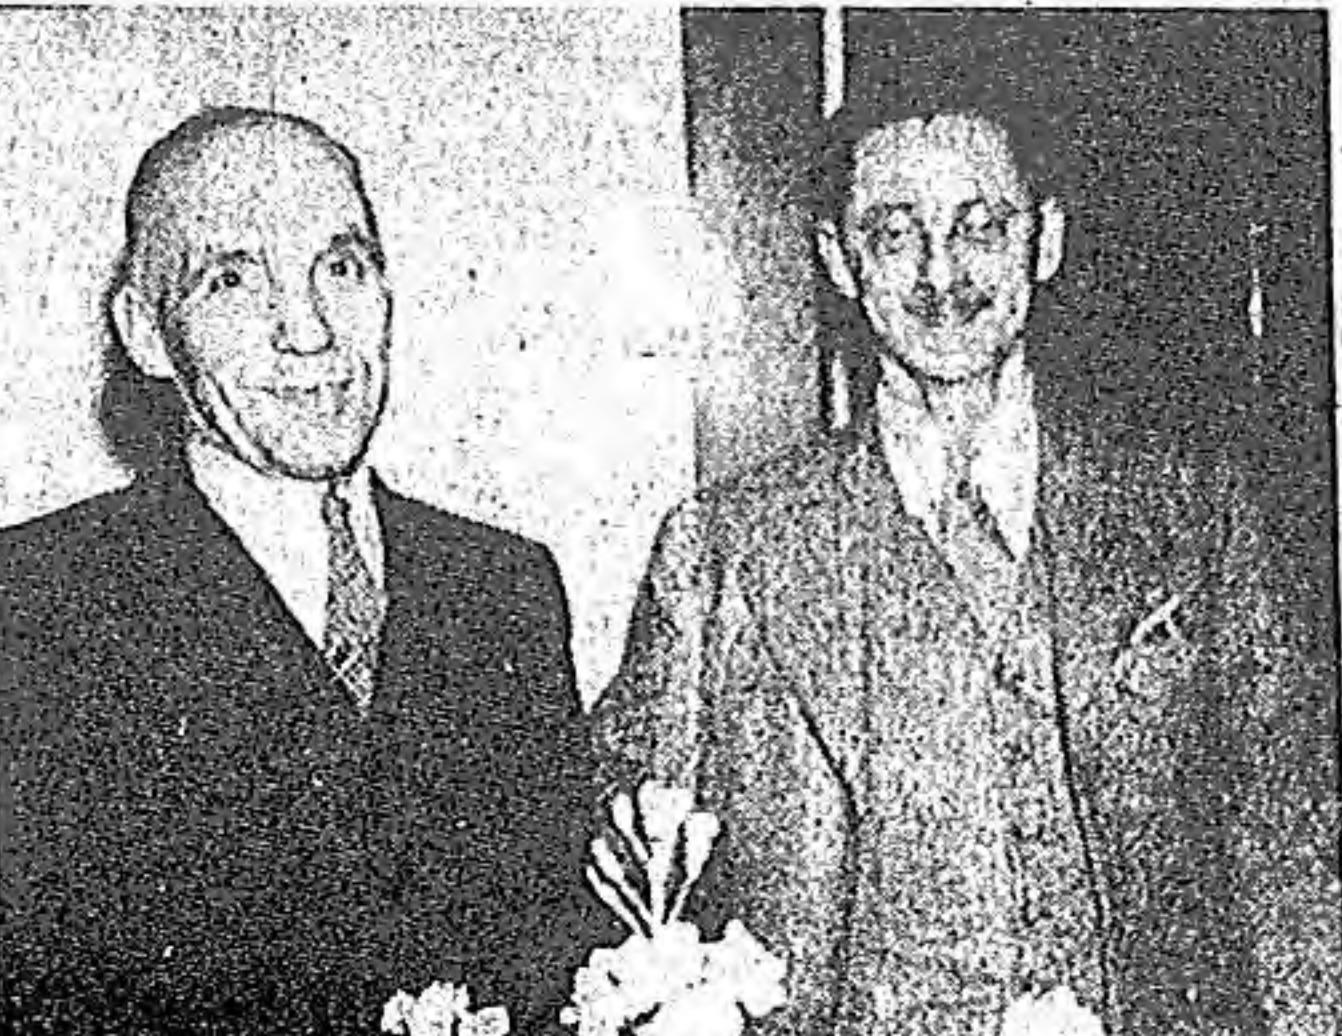

Mr. Morrison said that work had been held up by the difficulty of getting materials. "The lights on the front of the stores must have fire-proof wiring, for example, and that has been very difficult to get," he said.

TO POLL FAMILIES ON RECREATION NEED

Teams of canvassers are being organized through the finance committee of the Newmarket Community Recreation Council, under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. B. Seldon, for the drive for funds for the recreation council May 15. A door-to-door canvass is planned. At the same time, the families in Newmarket will be given questionnaires to fill out regarding their preferences for recreation. This information will then be available to the recreation council in helping it meet the needs of recreation in the community.

13 TURN OUT FOR MAY DAY BICYCLE RACE

The May Day bicycle race for boys from the ages of 12 to 18 was run off Wednesday night without mishap with Leonard Russell the winner and Orla Larsen making the fastest time in a field of 13. All finished the course.

The course took the boys from the starting point opposite Dixon's on Davis Drive, south on Prospect to Gorham, east on Gorham to the third concession, on the third to Hamilton's Corners, and back to the starting line.

Although handicapped by four minutes in the race, Larsen did the four-mile circuit in 13½ minutes. Bill Gilroy spilled along the course but was unhurt.

Sponsored by the Newmarket Cycle club, the race was the first in Newmarket since the outbreak of the war.

The course was patrolled by Chief Constable James Leeder, Constable Stewart Martin and County Constable Ronald Watt. A motorcycle squad of Victor Higginson, Ken Edwards and Harry Hill also assisted in patrolling the course. Others lending a helping hand were Orval Hissey, Frank Hodge, James Walker and Eddy Mort.

Weather permitting, the club will go on a jaunt this Sunday, leaving Dixon's at 1:30. President Bob Benville has the details.

Results: Leonard Russell, 14 min.; Orla Larsen, 13½ min.; Barney Westcott, 14½ min.; Bob Walker, 14.25 min.; Victor Petergood, 17.05 min.; Wendell Gilbert, 17.10 min.; Grant Firth, 17.15 min.; Howard Peterman, 17.25 min.; George Case, 17.35 min.; Jack Adams, 17.40 min.; Lowell Keffler, 18.15 min.; Don Williams, 18.25 min.; Bill Gilroy, 17½ min.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE YOUTH COMMITTEE

A meeting to organize an executive committee for youth in connection with the Newmarket Community Recreation council will be held in the back room over the firehall Tuesday night at 8 p.m. The meeting is being called by J. B. Bastedo, youth representative on the recreation council.

Anyone between 14 years and early 20's is invited to attend. It is hoped that through such a committee, the needs of recreation for youth in Newmarket may be met.

LOTS OF SUPPORT FOR SHOW, VETS SAY

Newmarket veterans report full co-operation with everyone supporting their Amateur Blitz.

Talent is coming to light in all quarters. Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales will open the fiesta with a piano solo. He has been spending his Monday evenings recently at the keyboard practising on a new concerto called Recreation Blues.

"You know, I'm strictly an amateur," he warned. "I'm having a lot of trouble with that boogie woogie eight-to-the-measure-bass in the third movement, but my timing is improving."

The committee has received 12 applications from Toronto which include every kind of entertainer from ballet dancers to real old hood down artists. The Citizens' Band is putting on two acts, one a little German band of fugitives from the Nuremberg trials. "Short" Brammer is whipping up a sax quartet as hot as the kitchen stove in harvest time.

The Institute ladies' vocal quartette is working on a pathetic little ballad, You Made Me What I Am Today. Their ringing challenge to the Lions club celebrated quartet is still unanswered but a secret rehearsal of male voices groaning softly, I Was Seeing Nellie Home, has been reported.

The veterans are dividing $50 in cash prizes among the contestants. A panel of three competent and impartial judges will select the winners strictly on their entertaining ability.

HOLLAND LANDING HAS COMMUNITY SPIRIT

There are community associations of various kinds in most communities. They act as adjuncts to the municipal government, planning, advising, and raising funds. Community associations are the odd jobs agency for town or village. They represent community action in which all citizens participate.

Most community associations are formed in a burst of enthusiasm for the accomplishment of one definite objective. The objective reached, the associations wither away from lack of exercise. Not so in Holland Landing. At one time regarded as Peck's bad boy of the county, Holland Landing is setting an enviable record of accomplishment through its community association.

Holland Landing, so its citizens say, has the longest Main street in York county. But on long main streets, the snow lies deeply in winter time and if there is no snow-plow available, traffic is tied up. Holland Landing had no snow-plow. It has one now, bought and paid for through the community association.

Holland Landing recently had a welcome home party for its veterans at which time gold watches were presented to those who had served in the armed forces. Again, that was the accomplishment of the community association.

Holland Landing needs a community hall. The community association is providing one. Here, we think, Holland Landing has best demonstrated the willingness of its citizens to work together for the benefit of the community. The memorial hall is being built in large part by voluntary labor. In the last few weeks, the foundations have been dug by the citizens working without charge. Professionals are being called in for specialized work, but the burden of building remains with volunteers. Progress so far is deserving of respect and praise.

There are other municipalities where the citizens have joined together for the benefit of the community. The re-building of the Pine Orchard Union church comes to mind, for one. Each community can offer similar examples of community effort. It is a source of lasting pride when members of a community can work together to provide a benefit that can be shared by all. It is the essence of our democratic way of life.

INDUSTRIAL PLANTS IN RURAL AREAS

The time when the northern part of York county could be considered strictly a rural area is rapidly passing. Since the cessation of hostilities, there has been a steady exodus of industrial plants from the larger to the smaller centres. The north part of York county has had a large share in the benefits of that migration.

Last week, the town of Aurora announced the location of two new industrial plants within its boundaries. Work has begun in Newmarket on an industrial plant. The air is alive with rumors of more industrial locations throughout the northern part of the county. Such activity is not confined to industrial establishments. Farm products processing and storage plants are active or being erected in many centres.

There are many factors entering into this prosperous boom in the rural areas. Industries have found less labor trouble, lowered costs outside the cities. The practice of decentralization is being put into effect. Working conditions in a small community are generally an improvement over the larger ones.

In agriculture, the provision of on-the-spot storage and processing plants springs in part from the poor service in previously existing facilities, and in part from an increasing tendency on the part of farmers to take over the distribution of their products. Through co-operative agencies, the farmers are cutting middle man costs and increasing their own profits.

How long and to what extent this activity will continue is a matter of conjecture. The post-war prosperity general to most industry is an influential factor in locating plants in small centres. If, however, the benefits accruing industry locating in small centres are all its exponents say, there is little fear that the small centres will suffer should there be a break in that prosperity.

COL. YOUNG SAYS THANKS

On March 30 of this year, the activities of the Newmarket training centre officially came to an end. On that date, the training centre reported "nil personnel." Since that time, only a skeleton force has remained to close down the camp and store equipment.

Since its beginning in September, 1940, 30,000 men were trained at the Newmarket centre. Over 300 of them have become officers and over 2,000 of them non-commissioned officers trained at the camp. The men trained at Newmarket fought wherever the Canadian forces were in battle. Many of them made the supreme sacrifice.

The Newmarket camp has an enviable record as a training centre. Equally, the Newmarket centre has been foremost in activities connected with the victory loan campaigns, for one, the blood donor service for another. These accomplishments reflect great personal credit on the two commanding officers, Lieut.-Col. H. B. Harkness, D.S.O., and Lieut.-Col. Newton M. Young, and their staffs.

Elsewhere in this issue, there is a letter from Col. Young in which he expresses his personal appreciation of the friendliness of the people of Newmarket towards the camp. He notes the way Newmarket citizens opened their homes to the men at the camp, the way the municipality provided services for the camp. He writes: "There have been few places in Canada throughout the war where the same spirit of harmony and cooperation has prevailed."

While Col. Young does not say so, the kindnesses of the town towards the camp have been reciprocated by the camp. It has been, as he writes, a "great partnership." Col. Young has made the camp facilities available to Newmarket whenever they were sought. He has opened the camp to the citizens. He and his staff have gone out of their way to be helpful. It has been a partnership in which both parties gave back in full what they received.

We regret the closing of the camp though acknowledging with thankfulness that its need no longer exists. Newmarket has profited by the partnership. It is the sincere hope of the citizens of Newmarket that the men and women who passed through the camp were equally benefitted. We hope they will not forget us.

"IN THE GOLDFISH BOWL"

A contemporary aptly voices a problem all weekly editors are more or less faced with. In his editorial columns, the editor of the Midland Free Press reflects:

"The editor of a metropolitan daily has one great advantage over the editor of a town or village weekly:

"He does not have to do his thinking in a goldfish bowl."

"He is able to write editorials and to express what happens to be on his mind on any particular day without having too many folks know that he woke with a grouchy feeling and has a bone to pick with some one. True, what he writes will probably disclose that fact, but to not one in a hundred of the great mobs of people who live in the city is the editor known.

"In town or village it is different. The people know when they see an expression of opinion in the local paper just who wrote it. They meet 'the guy' on the street every day. They themselves are able to form ideas and express them to the neighbors without anyone getting excited about it. But the editor has to step carefully, particularly if he would write positively about some local controversial subject. His thinking and writing are done in public, and he is personally identified with what appears in the paper.

"Other folks have this great advantage over the editor. They can change their minds easily and few are any the wiser. If the editor on the other hand discovered that he has been wandering up the wrong street and wants to retrace his steps everybody is aware of it, at least those folks who take the trouble to read what he writes.

"All of which is apropos of nothing, except that it just occurs to this editor every now and then that he is being watched as he makes up his mind, and that does not make it any easier to reach a conclusion."

EARLY IN THE MORNING

Infants can waken from sleep as if the act was only a transition from one dream to another. Not always, of course. To the harassed parent at two o'clock in the morning, the awakening of his infant son or daughter with loud howls resembles more an nightmare. But when diapers are dry, indigestion untroubled, and the bed warm and comfortable, the untroubled awakening of a child is a beautiful sight.

How different the awakening of the adult, with its accompanying medley of groans and coughing and muttered imprecations against that instrument of the devil, the alarm clock. The world is a heartless place when it is time to get up. The approaching worries loom in far larger proportions. The daily routine takes on all the aspects of a treadmill. Without enough sleep, and with a crick in the back from a sagging bedspring, there is no happiness in the adult's first wakening.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Send your questions to Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, P.O. box 144, The Adolescent's Social Relation to Parents

Symptoms of adolescence are slang, restlessness, impatience, bumptuousness, self-consciousness, listlessness, awkwardness, conflict about hours, frequent criticism, sensitivity about clothes, frequently showing off, in conflict with parents, dissatisfaction, being a nuisance. There is a conflict of desire to be secure and a desire to be independent. The adolescent wants to be treated as an adult individual and at the same time is not ready to assume adult responsibility. When symptoms of adolescence present themselves, the parents take on the attitudes either of a serious state of affairs or an indication of healthy development.

Parents who deal with adolescence by nagging, scolding, lecturing, arguing or questioning do so with unsatisfactory results.

The teen-ager probably would rebel. Adolescents should spend some time away from their parents—it would be good for both.

Adolescents need emancipation from control. The goal is to get the child to be independent of us in doing and thinking.

In order to make children capable we must give them practice in independence, making decisions, assuming responsibility and using freedom. As we increase the amount of responsibility, we should increase the freedom. If the child has plenty of practice, he is ready for almost complete direction of his own life by the age of 16. Too often the child has to fight for freedom and responsibilities. This conflict is expressed by sulking, by being passive but doing as he pleases, or by staging open rebellion. The conflict usually comes to the surface over something trivial, such as the height of the heel, slang of the gang, or size of the sweater, etc. The most important sanction is outside the home during adolescence. The standards of his contemporaries are important to the teen-ager.

Parents worry in terms of the child making mistakes during adolescence. It is really a good thing for children to make mistakes and learn through their mistakes.

There is need to learn causes of the conflicts between parents and adolescents—a need to better understand the adolescent. He possesses a desire to be an adult. There are physical, mental, social and emotional spurts during adolescence. The 14-year-old starts to comb his hair for the first time. Sometimes he displays enthusiasm that lasts just a short time. The adolescent is faced with serious problems: work? vacation? educational problems? social problems? girl problems? gang problems?

The age of the parent of the teen-ager who tries to lay down laws to the child is past. The adolescent needs parents, not for telling him what to do but for guidance without dictation.

There is a necessity to recognize the wants and desires of adolescence.

1. Want for affection and belonging, not too overtly expressed. Needs to feel safe, secure and solid in parents' affection. Even though education, cooking, social activities, religious functions and economic functions have left the home, home can always be a place of security, a place in which the child should feel "at home".

2. Desire for social approval. The adolescent wants some approval from home and so frequently gets approval. He needs approval from adults, especially parents. He needs more approval than disapproval and the reverse is more often what he gets.

3. Desire for creative achievement. There is much chance for satisfying this desire in the home. More opportunities need to be provided so the adolescent can have the thrill of doing something worth doing.

4. Self-esteem. The adolescent needs to feel he has a place. He usually has a feeling of inferiority and insecurity and he needs someone to bolster his feeling of self-confidence. Feelings of inferiority and insecurity come partly because of our worry lest he make mistakes. We keep nagging, checking and picking on him.

5. Desire for independence. The 15 and 16-year-old shouldn't have to fight for more freedom and responsibility. We shouldn't lag behind their development. We are usually two years behind the time children are ready for certain privileges and responsibilities.

6. Provide information when it seems to be wanted. 7. Provide moral support—faith and trust is what the child needs. 8. Help the child achieve independence—help him make choices. 9. Provide companionship and friendship. 10. Make it possible for him to associate with contemporaries. 11. Instead of telling, have co-operative planning.

12. Privacy is what children want and need. "Even my pants' pockets aren't my

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

It has always seemed, to my husband and me, that music has a place and power in life, which nothing else can replace or displace.

We talk about the need for a universal language, and now since the world has shrunk to such proportions that any part of it can be reached at will, it would seem to be a necessity, but in music we have a universal language ready to our hand.

Listen to a great chorale, oratorio, mass or grand old hymn in any language, and you feel the upsurge of prayer and praise in your very soul.

Listen to an opera, an operetta, a symphony orchestra, or good band or concert company, and if you were sitting beside a Pole, a Czechoslovak, a Netherlander or a Belgian, you would look at one another in delight at some exquisite rendition or some gay, good interpretation—even if you could not speak one word of each other's language.

There is a musical sense which transcends common sense and lifts us into an atmosphere that has in it something of divinity.

As a child I was brought up on nursery rhymes set to music, old Scotch and Irish ballads and the hymns that live forever.

I've forgotten many of them, but today, these are as fresh in my memory as when I learned them from a variety of relations, all music loving, in the long ago.

The friends who taught them to me have long since gone to the bright beyond, where they will learn the new song, but their memory will be green in my heart till I, too, have passed beyond the "bournes of time and space."

My husband says that in his old home in Scotland there were enough of the family to sing part songs and every little while we will hear a song on the radio which wakes a childhood memory of stormy Sunday evenings in that Highland home, when they sang the hymns of the Covenanters, and the old Gaelic psalms.

I read an article by Edward Johnston lately, in which he told that children will sacrifice something for music we found when we started our children's orchestra and chorus. The practices were from two to four on Saturday afternoons — the children's free day and yet 34 children, in age from six to 14, rarely missed a practice, not only that but they walked, some of them two miles or more, in all kinds of weather.

There have been few places in Canada throughout the war where the same spirit of harmony and co-operation has prevailed from the earliest days of the camp. I don't think there is on record one instance of disorderly conduct or one complaint that has been officially made by the town to the camp or by the camp to the town. One little point that I might mention has meant a great deal, and that is that the town has been good enough to maintain the roads up to and leading to the camp and the foreman on that job has my personal thanks, as well as those who helped him, in this maintenance. That is but a token of the spirit of co-operation.

While partings are never pleasant, the glorious thing is that the sacrifice is over and our boys and girls may again return to take up their lives so interrupted by the war. In this your citizens can help by giving them every assistance and by remembering to be sympathetic with those who have had the experiences that have been theirs and face the re-adjustment that is now necessary.

I have already written to the leading manufacturers, to the ladies of the soldiers' club and to the mayor and council but I want to express, through your columns, to the churches and other organizations who helped to entertain and assist our men, the appreciation that I feel for the assistance given me in carrying on my duties here.

I would like to also thank the hundreds of citizens who made a "home away from home" for our men on Saturdays and Sundays and the men have often commented on the kindly treatment by the people of Newmarket.

My final expression of gratitude is one to yourself and your paper for the fairness of your comments at all times on the doings of the camp and for your great assistance in building morale by reflecting the camp's activities in the columns of your paper.

One cannot say where a good journalist draws the line between reflecting and moulding public opinion but I would say that in this case the line has been drawn with artistry.

Again, on behalf of those 30,000 men, my most sincere thanks.

Lieut.-Col. N. M. Young, Officer Commanding, No. 11 Inf. Tr. Bn., Newmarket.

EARL ROWE, M.P. for North Simcoe and no stranger to North York, has an outsider in Royal Stand which has been trained by the expert, Harry Giddings. One thing Harry does is to have his horses ready early. Just what jockeys will be aboard has not yet been announced. Percy Rickard, Heise's trainer, has been using Duke Foden, Albert Snyder and Stan Stretton with Willigivit, while Chris Rogers, now campaigning on the American tracks, is slated to ride the Stuart filly. John has Bonnie Liz and his other plate entry still working out at Kenneland. We can't do anything else but call Kingarvie to win but there's plenty of sentiment in these parts with Willigivit and Bonnie Liz on receiving end. A win by either Mr. Heise or Mr. Stuart would be as welcome as Charlie Smith's triumph on Ten To Ace.

By AB. HULSE

"Heigh-ho! Heigh-ho! It's off to Woodbine we go!" Just in case you guys and gals have forgotten, in 23 days they'll be holding the 1946 edition of Canada's racing classic, the King's Plate. It's the 86th running of the event and it's 73rd at Woodbine. Yesterday was the day the owners laid $25 on the line to complete qualifications to post time when a century note is necessary before starting.

Here's the procedure. Entries last year, now stands second behind Tulachmore and being only four-year-old, should eventually overhaul the MacDonald horse.

Official figures, just released by the American Hockey League, show that Joint McComb finished 42nd in the league scoring race the past season. McComb played in 49 regular league contests and two games in the play-offs. He scored 18 goals and 27 assists for a 45-point total, none of which were amassed in the play-offs. It was a pretty fair season considering he started late and was out of the game towards the end with injuries. The regular playing season consisted of 62 games and only Gerry Brown, Jimmy Conacher, Pat McReavy and Don Metz, who played in slightly less games, scored more than McComb. The rest played practically the whole schedule. Joint drew a total of 38 minutes in penalties, four of which came in the play-offs. He was the fourth highest scorer on the Providence Reds. There are close to 200 players listed as having taken part in games over the season and the names behind McComb include 20 or 30 players rated high up in the hockey firmament.

FOR CANADA'S TOURIST BUSINESS

MILLIONS OF AMERICAN VISITORS are expected to come to Canada during 1946 for their post-war vacation.

It won't always be easy to accommodate them. We still have our crowding and shortages. We are still in the aftermath of war. This is the very reason we should all take special care to be courteous and considerate to our guests this summer.

This year, of all years, we must maintain the reputation we have won for true hospitality.

YOU MAY NEVER SEE A TOURIST, BUT... tourist dollars flow to you. The grocer, the garage man, the farmer, the office worker—everybody benefits directly or indirectly from tourist spending, and the extra work and income it creates. Last year, tourists in Canada spent more than one hundred and fifty million dollars. In the years ahead, as our ability to handle tourist traffic grows, who is to say how big this business may become? For Canada is in an enviable position—a natural vacation land next door to the most travel-minded nation in the world. This is an all-important year! It may be difficult in many ways yet it holds great promise for the future.

THEY'LL BE TALKING ABOUT US... We want them to come again. We want them to tell their friends: "We had a marvellous time in Canada!" By making them truly welcome, we can win millions of enthusiastic salesmen for Canada—"satisfied customers" who will pass on to many times their number the story of Canadian hospitality and of Canada's unlimited attractions as a vacation land.

"WE HAD A MARVELLOUS TIME IN CANADA!"

Egg Futures

A market for a large percentage of our egg production is already assured as far ahead as 1949.

Britain wants them.

Contracts are already drawn up that will send Canadian eggs to England in large numbers each month for many years to come. And, of course, it is logical to assume that the Dominion Government will keep prices regulated to the point where egg production remains profitable so that supplies will be assured and the contracts filled.

So the immediate future, at least, for the poultryman looks bright. High producing flocks will continue to show a nice profit for their owners.

Here are two relevant facts for all producers of market eggs to think about:

- (1) Pullets lay 20-30% more eggs than yearling or older hens.
- (2) SHUR-GAIN Laying Mash is specially fortified with essential ingredients to promote consistently high, profitable egg production.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT CHARGED TOOK CAR,
GET THREE MONTHS

Two youths were sentenced to three months and two others were given a suspended sentence and placed on probation on a charge of taking a car without the owner's consent by Magistrate J. E. Pritchard in magistrate's court here Friday.

Russell Beaudreau and Gordon Foster pleaded guilty to the charge of taking a car without the owner's consent and were given a suspended sentence. Charles Carpenter and William Raymond were sentenced to three months on the same charge. A joint charge of theft of car against the four was withdrawn.

Gar. Hamilton, former Sutton garage owner, testified that a car was taken from his garage early Jan. 6. The car was later recovered in Toronto.

Both Raymond and Carpenter testified that they had not participated in the taking of the car and had not learned until after they had entered the car that it had been taken without the owner's permission. They both said that they had ridden in the car to Toronto and then had abandoned it and returned to Sutton.

Magistrate Pritchard advised both accused early in the proceedings to consider a plea of guilty but accused elected to continue hearings. "I am satisfied that these two accused are not telling the truth," said Magistrate Pritchard in delivering sentence. "I regret that the court must do its duty in sentencing Carpenter and Raymond. The first two accused, Foster and Beaudreau, admitted their guilt while the other two tried to get out of it."

Three youths charged with the theft of bicycles and on bail of $500 were remanded one week. Robert E. Purdy and Fred Page, both of Toronto, pleaded guilty on separate charges of having liquor in their cars and were each fined $15 and costs. County Constable Ronald Watt laid the charges.

Charged with driving without the proper safety lights, Cecil Prentice was fined $5 and costs. Charged with driving without this year's license, Nick Elchysyn was fined $10. Provincial Constable Wm. Melbourne laid both charges.

UNVEIL TABLET
EX-STUDENTSTHIRD FROM NASSAU
INITIATED AS MASON

A unique event in Masonic history occurred recently when Raymond Cole, pharmacist of Nassau, Bahamas, B.W.I., was initiated into the Aurora chapter, Royal Arch Masons. Mr. Cole, on holidays from Nassau, had arranged his trip in advance so that this event might take place. It was important not only to him but to other members back in Nassau for with his membership in the chapter, there are now sufficient members to obtain a charter for a chapter in the Bahamas. Mr. Cole marks the third Nassau resident to be received into the Aurora chapter and initiated here under special dispensation.

The Nassau chapter members are hoping that if their application for a charter to the grand chapter of Great Britain, in whose jurisdiction the West Indies lies, is granted, the proposed new chapter may be called The Aurora Chapter.

Perdue, who brought with him from Farnham, England, a brass processional cross. Victor Attridge, Aurora, supplied the staffs.

The half-yearly meeting of Friends was held on Sunday at the Friends' meeting house, Yonge St. north. Quakers were present from many parts of Ontario for the occasion.

WITH THE FORCES

Pte. Orval Jones, Gormley, brother of Fire Chief Harry Jones and Victor Jones, arrived home from overseas last week. He has been on active service since 1942 and has been overseas for three years. He is well known in Aurora, where he had a bread route at one time.

LAC Murray McLeod, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McLeod, arrived home on Thursday after being overseas since 1944. He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in 1942.

EMPLOYED IN TOWN,
LEO D. HODGINS DIES

The death occurred at Weston on Friday of Leo Dalton "Odie" Hodgins, Mosley St., caretaker of the Aurora municipal buildings, after an illness of some months.

Maj. Johnson served overseas in the First World War and later joined the 12th York Rangers in the militia, rising to the rank of captain and in command of the Aurora company. He retired from the militia but rejoined the N.P.A.M. in 1940, being signals officer for the Queen's Yorks. He took command of the company with the rank of major when the county unit mobilized, replacing Capt. D. O. Mungovan. In 1942, he enlisted with the Canadian Armored Corps, reverting to the rank of lieutenant to go active. He served throughout the war at Camp Borden and upon his retirement last summer, held the rank of major, commanding the track section of A-33, C.A.C.T.E. A son, Lieut. Ted Johnson, C.I.C., expects to receive his discharge from the army soon.

AURORA PAID CIRCULATION
EXCEEDS 300 COPIES

AURORA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, MAY 2ND, 1946

SINGLE COPIES, 5 CENTS EACH

V-E Day Memorial Service
Planned In Aurora May 5

On Sunday, May 5, Aurora will be the scene of a V-E Day memorial service sponsored by Aurora Branch 385, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. Legion branches from Sutton to Woodbridge have been extended invitations to attend and several color parties will be present from Toronto. Veterans of either the first or second World War, regardless of whether they are members of the Legion or where they reside, are invited to attend the parade and public ceremony in Aurora town park.

Accompanying the veterans will be St. Andrew's College cadet corps and pipe band, Aurora high school cadets and Legion band, Schomberg continuation school cadets and Aurora Boys' Band. An invitation is being extended to Newmarket Citizens' Band to attend.

Funeral services were held on Friday from P. M. Thompson's funeral home for Francis "Dork" Rowe, Gurnett St. Mr. Rowe had been in poor health the past two years.

Mr. Rowe had lived in Aurora all his life. He was born on the site of his present residence, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rowe. Educated in Aurora, he was one of the town's most prominent athletes for many years, being an expert at lacrosse, baseball and soccer. He was manager of Aurora's last field lacrosse team. For many years he acted as a sports official. He also played in the Aurora Citizens' Band.

He was a member of the Aurora fire brigade for over 25 years, serving as captain for ten years and fire chief for three years. He was a past president of Lodge Loyalty, Sons of England, and held a long service jewel. For well over 30 years he was employed with the T. Sisman Shoe Co. and he was one of the firm's most skilled workers. Close to 100 employees of the firm acted as honorary pall-bearers at the funeral, while the plant was closed during the funeral service.

He was a member of Aurora Baptist church and for some years sang in the choir. He was also prominent at one time in church affairs. He was for some years a member of the Aurora board of trade.

Combines are led by the veteran "Huck" Young and Ray Burton, and most of the players are experienced. Nearly the entire personnel served in the armed forces which shouldn't hurt their drawing power locally. The schedule will be available shortly with games starting around May 20.

The legion is now fixing the playing surface, and lacrosse nets have been purchased. The local veterans are hoping that Aurora youngsters will enter a juvenile team in the North York league, and the league executive is holding a playing berth for Aurora. The boys interested say there will definitely be an Aurora team, and that as soon as practice hours are available they will be out in full force.

For many years, Aurora was a hotbed for lacrosse both of the field and box types, and the last intermediate and junior teams here drew large crowds. It is over ten years since any lacrosse has been played in the local arena, and it will doubtless take Combines a few games to establish a following, but Canada's national game should soon make up for lost time.

It is over ten years since any lacrosse has been played in the local arena, and it will doubtless take Combines a few games to establish a following, but Canada's national game should soon make up for lost time.

Combines are led by the veteran "Huck" Young and Ray Burton, and most of the players are experienced. Nearly the entire personnel served in the armed forces which shouldn't hurt their drawing power locally. The schedule will be available shortly with games starting around May 20.

The legion is now fixing the playing surface, and lacrosse nets have been purchased. The local veterans are hoping that Aurora youngsters will enter a juvenile team in the North York league, and the league executive is holding a playing berth for Aurora. The boys interested say there will definitely be an Aurora team, and that as soon as practice hours are available they will be out in full force.

For many years, Aurora was a hotbed for lacrosse both of the field and box types, and the last intermediate and junior teams here drew large crowds. ## An Assured Egg Market for the Lifetime of your 1946 Chicks

CONFIDENCE IN THE MARKET

RIGHT now you can look ahead and see a profitable and assured market for eggs for at least a year and a half — the normal lifetime of your 1946 chicks. The "gamble" has been taken right out of poultry.

There is no reason to suppose Canadians will seriously cut down on their egg consumption — which is high. Then, too, the British egg contracts have been settled not only for 1946, but for 1947, providing a basic floor price for all the surplus eggs we are likely to produce. British requirements for 1948 will be announced before the end of 1947. The demand for poultry meats — both domestic and foreign — is equally strong.

CONFIDENCE IN BRAY CHICKS

Bray chicks are bred to be vigorous, thrifty, fast growing and quick developing — the very qualities you must have in May chicks to have them mature and laying for the profitable fall and winter season. If you have been holding off ordering your Bray Chicks for 1946 — or if you need additional chicks to take care of summer losses and fall culling — place your order now. You can have confidence in the market. You can have confidence in Bray Chicks.

It's next to impossible to buy feed corn — but you can grow it. What's more, with good soil and good Purina Hybrid Seed Corn, you can grow more corn per acre than any other feed grain crop.

Plan to plant a field of corn for grain, this year. We are stocking Purina Hybrid Seed Corn, Ontario-grown and Ontario-proved, produced in a district which escaped last fall's early frost. We have picked a variety that fits into this locality's length of growing season. You can sow it without any doubts. If it didn't come up to the Purina standard, it wouldn't be packed in the Checkerboard Bag.

Bill Thoms, in case you didn't notice, was the peace maker in the recent Memorial Cup series at Maple Leaf Gardens. Thoms was in charge of the sin-bin and kept the Irish and the Westerners separated when in escrow. The series, despite its intense rivalry, was cleanly played except for one or two of the games.

Marj McCarnan added to her basketball laurels last week as York Lions, the Ontario girls' intermediate titleholders, defeated Verdun, Que., in the Eastern Canada girls' basketball finals by a fair sized margin. It's the second interprovincial title for the Newmarket girl who will soon be seen in action in softball at Sunnyside again.

Richmond Hill high sent their senior cage team into the annual Golden Ball tournament in Toronto over the holiday season. The Hillbillies defeated Western Commerce easily in the first game and then were swamped 50-8 by East York C.I. which won the T. and D. suburban crown earlier in the year. Too bad Newmarket high didn't enter the tournament. This year's team would rank, in our opinion, with the best high school squads in Ontario.

Ronnie Simmons, rightly enough, has been named by the committee in charge as the winner of the Frank Underhill trophy, donated annually to the player in the Aurora Lions hockey teams who shows the best all-round sportsmanship and ability. You just couldn't deprive the kid of the honor for he was a standout all year and, aside from ability, played cleanly. He gets his award at the banquet (date not yet set). We knew it was to be Ronnie but thought it was to be a secret until the banquet date. However the announcement has been made and it didn't come as a surprise to anyone.

Bob Moodey and his buddies out Schomberg way are bearing down in collecting funds for the arena they hope to have operating next year. They have close to $4,000 right now and pretty soon will incorporate and get the Gene Tierney and Cornel Wilde who starred in the psychological screen drama, Leave Her to Heaven, a technicolor dramatization of the Ben Ames Williams best-seller. The picture, presented by Darryl F. Zanuck, which plays at the Strand theatre four days, Monday to Thursday, presents Gene as the madly jealous young wife who will stop at nothing — even murder — to keep her husband completely to herself. Leave Her to Heaven marks Miss Tierney's most important role to date, and also brings Wilde to the screen in his first modern romantic part.

John Katan, better known as "The Palermo Panther" and one of the most unusual characters it has been our privilege to fraternize with on sports highways, joined Earl McCready in San Francisco along with several other grapplers to make the jaunt to New Zealand. Now you won't have to wonder why he's missing from Tunney's Thursday frolics at Maple Leaf Gardens. Katan and McCready have both held the British Empire title and have met a few dozen times in the ring. The Anzacs will be getting a well rehearsed and top flight ring bill-of-fare.

George Stong, ace Richmond Hill softball hurler who returned from overseas early this season, is slated to toss the big apple for Hamilton Beavers in senior company this summer. He may be available, however, for games down this way before the season is over. Ronnie O'Dell, another Hill pitcher who also served overseas, is now located in Northern Ontario and won't be seen on a local softball diamond this summer.

Barrie, where artificial ice went over big in the arena, is slated to toss the big apple for the new $30,000 curling rink for next winter. It's to be called the Kempenfeldt club and shares are now being subscribed for. Those boys up north generally get what they go after and it can be taken as read that Ab Simon, Wib Harris, Harry Armstrong and all the rest who rank with the best curlers in Canada will be able to strut their stuff in 1947 under the most modern conditions. Never could figure out why curling didn't appeal more in Aurora or Newmarket, but it'll come one of these days, brother, it'll come.

South Simcoe softballers tee-off on May 13 and continue through until mid July with what should be a hectic series. Then the play-offs start. The entries this year are Fennell's Corners, Bradford, Scotch Settlement, Bond Head, Mount Pleasant, Cookstown and Churchill. The latter two are new entries to the league but not new to softball by any means, for it isn't so long ago that Churchill was in the York-Simcoe league and Cookstown featured a kid battery of Harry Couse and the late Gordy Dawson. There'll be plenty of fun and stuff for the lads up north.

Uxbridge has organized for tennis again and the Ontario county town hopes to renew some of the challenge matches they used to have in other years.

COUPLE TO LIVE

AT RICHMOND HILL

Rev. Roy Hicks officiated Saturday afternoon at Aurora United church when Mabel May Fisher, daughter of Mr. A. N. Fisher and the late Mrs. Fisher, became the bride of George E. Fenwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fenwick, Vancouver.

Mrs. James Emmons presided at the organ and accompanied Miss Nixola Fisher who sang Through The Years during the signing of the register. The church was prettily decorated with pink and white snapdragons on tall standards and candelabra.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin trimmed with lace, the full skirt extending into a train. Her floor-length veil was held in place with satin halo and orange blossoms, formally worn by her mother, and she carried a cascade of ivory roses with sweetpeas and swan-sonia. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Clarence Fisher, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of twilight blue satin and net with a matching satin chaplet trimmed with sequins, and net mitts, and carried a cascade of pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Douglas, cousin of the bride, and Miss Florence Fisher, sister of the bride. They were gowned alike in heavenly blue crepe and net with matching crepe, chaplets covered with sequins, and net mitts. They carried bouquets of roses.

Mr. Clarence Fisher of Richmond Hill was best man and the ushers were Mr. Paul McKenzie, Toronto, and Mr. Douglas Fisher, Ottawa.

The reception was held at Richmond Hill where the bride's aunt, Mrs. Elmer McKenzie, received in a gown of navy blue and white with a corsage of Briariff roses. Also assisting was Mrs. Ethel Brayford who chose a gown of orchid and white with corsage of yellow roses. The toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's grandfather, Mr. M. McKenzie.

Following a wedding trip by motor to the southern states, the couple will make their home in Richmond Hill.

For travelling the bride wore a powder blue suit with brown accessories and a corsage of roses.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Fenwick was widely entertained. Mrs. C. W. Fisher entertained at a trousseau tea. Mrs. Lambert Atkinson and Mrs. R. Cooper gave miscellaneous showers. Miss Margaret Douglas entertained at a tea and shower.

GRACE GEE HAS
CHURCH WEDDING

Standards of calla lilies and baskets of spring flowers and ferns formed a pretty setting at the Congregational-Chrismatian church on Saturday, April 27, for the wedding of Grace Viola Gee, daughter of Mrs. Elgin Perrin, Newmarket, and John Clifford Osmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Osmond, Beaverton. Rev. A. B. Stein officiated. Mrs. J. E. Cane was at the organ and Mrs. Wm. Epworth was soloist. Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Ralph Tedford, Montreal, the bride looked lovely in a white, triple sheer gown with full length net veil capped with a sweetheart headdress of net. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Doris Harden was bridesmaid and wore turquoise blue sheer with halo hat and shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Mrs. Jack Holly, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore pink triple sheer with halo hat and shoulder length veil. She carried bronze roses.

Mr. Arthur Osmond, Toronto, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Larry Patterson, Minesing, Mr. Harry McGee, Newmarket, and Mr. Jack Holly, Toronto.

The reception followed in the Sunday-school room of the church. Mrs. Perrin received in heavenly blue crepe with matching hat and a corsage of sweetheart roses. The groom's mother assisted and wore leaf green crepe with black picture hat and a corsage of butterfly roses.

For travelling the bride donned a powder blue wool suit with matching hat and a corsage of sweetheart roses. Following a honeymoon to several points in the United States, the young couple will live in Toronto.

DELIVERY OF MILK

Almost as familiar as the horse that draws his dairy cart is Peter, the liver and white springer spaniel, that rides with Don Cameron of Cousin's Dairy on his daily route.

Peter joined the firm around Christmas time, Mr. Cameron says. "The dog belonged to a family near Sharon who sold out the farm. I guess Peter missed the stock around the farm because he ran away and used to come to town. Now he stays with us or in the stable."

Peter rides in the cart watching the passing scene with a benevolent eye. He is quite attached to the horse, Birdy, says Mr. Cameron.

In Memoriam

Rolland—In loving memory of a dear father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Rolland, who passed away February 27, 1937, and May 2, 1937.

Gone into that light that shines so fair,

Gone from this earth of sorrow and care;

Resting those hands that did their best,

Gone, dear mother and dad, gone to rest.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last;

Their weary trials and troubles are past;

In silence they suffered, in patience they bore

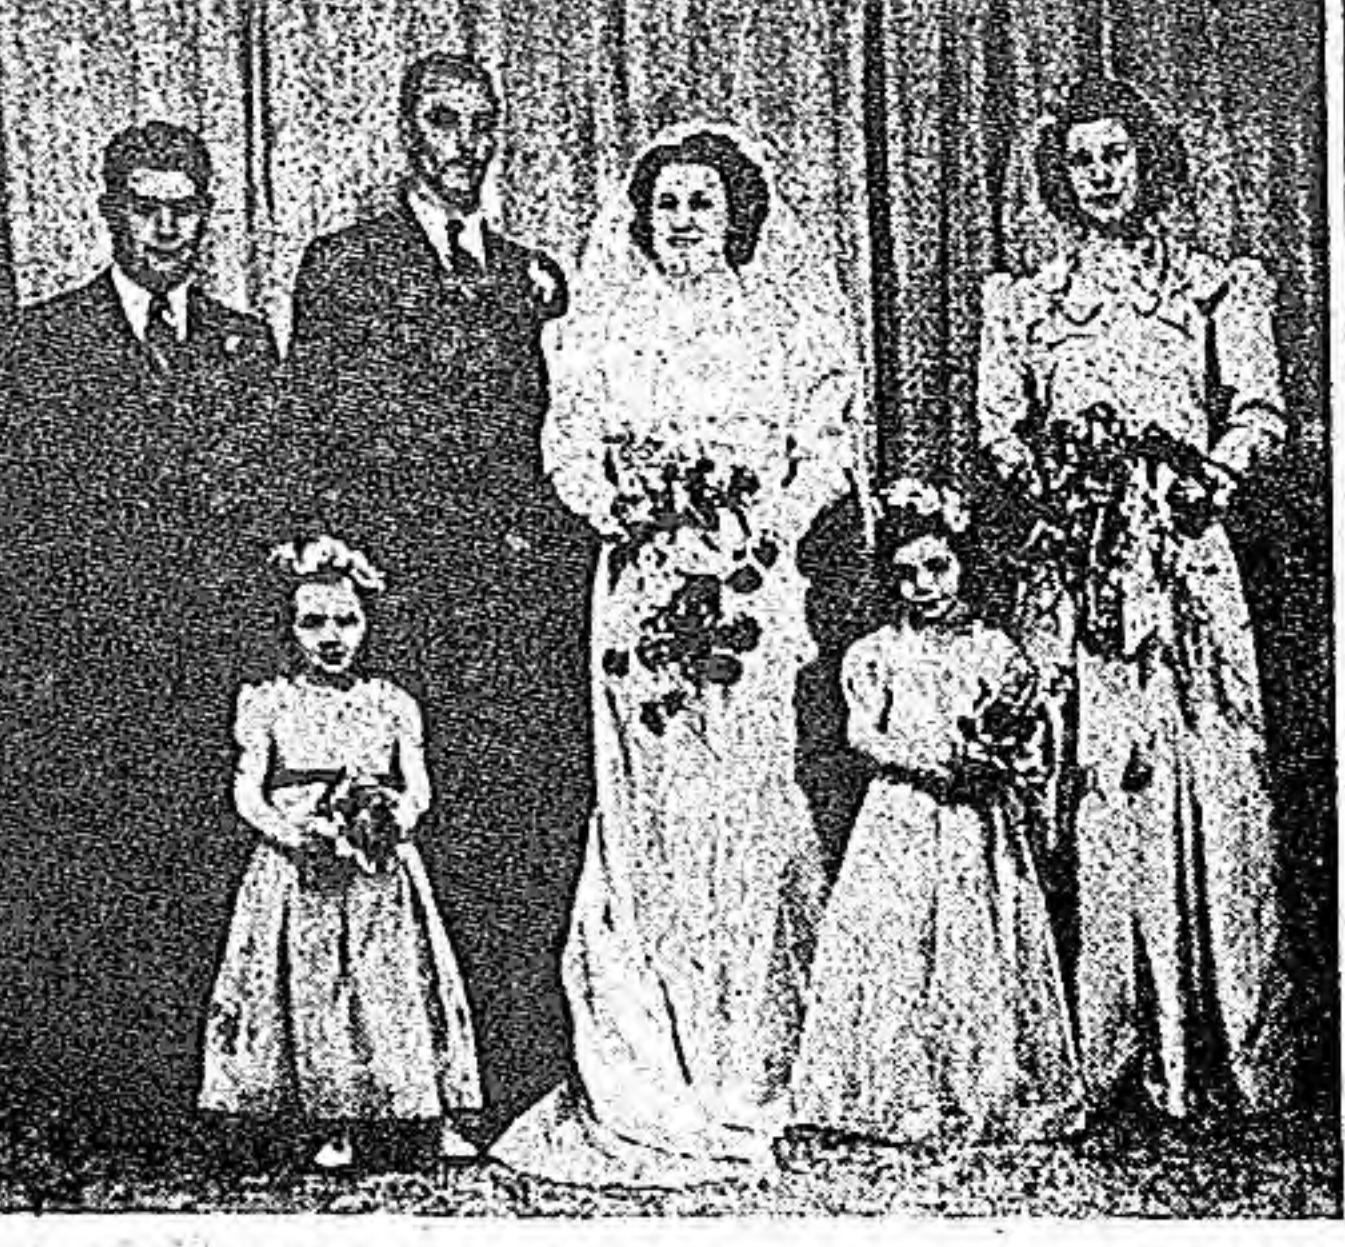

Till God called them home to suffer no more.

Daughter and son-in-law, Ida, Ross and Jean Squires.

VanLoven—In loving memory of my dear parents, Silas VanLoven, who died March 30, 1940, and Sophronia VanLoven, who died April 30, 1940. Love turns back the pages of memory.

Lovingly remembered by daughter, Muriel, and family.

The town fathers provide a dumping ground for garbage and yet some use the road side beside it instead of going inside. How terrible it looks! Don't be guilty of anything so unsightly.

Pastor and Mrs. Sidney Kerr spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, Sr., in Stirling. Mr. Kerr preached in the Stirling Gospel hall last Sunday.

Mrs. Thompson of Orangeville is visiting at the home of her son, Mr. H. J. Thompson.

The final night of the drama festival of the Toronto East Rural Presbytery will be held in the town hall at Mount Albert Friday, May 17, at 8:15 o'clock.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS
AID EUROPEAN PEOPLE

The girls of the Newmarket high school, under the direction of Miss Annie King, have done some excellent work to aid the suffering peoples of Europe.

Securing their wool and material at their own expense and working after school hours, the girls have knitted 128 assorted baby garments, consisting of 45 baby sweaters, 25 nighties, 11 pairs booties, one pair mittens, 22 baby bonnets, 19 refugee sweaters, one knitted suit and four white knitted skirts.

This shipment has been turned over to Capt. Arthur Robinson of the Newmarket corps of the Salvation Army who will arrange for it to be sent to Europe through the Salvation Army Red Shield Women's Auxiliary.

This truth is clearly set forth for us in John 1:12-13, "But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His Name, which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God." It is not presumption on the part of a child of God, to say that he or she knows that they possess eternal life, for both the gospel of John and the first epistle of John were written with the express purpose that "they that believe might know that they have eternal life."

One reference must suffice "These things have I written unto you that believe on the Name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life and that ye may believe on the Name of the Son of God." 1 John 5:13.

GOSPEL ECHOES

HEAD OR HEART RELIGION

By Rev. L. James Lake, Newmarket Gospel Tabernacle. "And this is life eternal that they may know Thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast sent." It is evident from this verse of Scripture that there is a knowledge, the possession of which, gives us eternal life. Briefly, it is my intention under the spirit, to point out the tremendous difference between head and heart religion. In so doing I am following in the steps of my Master Who made this the constant burden of His ministry.

If today you were walking down the Main St. of Newmarket and you should meet Winston Churchill, you would at once recognize him. Not only would his face be familiar to you, but also the many interesting facts of his life.

You have read of his birth, of his early life, his ancestry, his achievements in battle, his speeches, his wonderful leadership, as well as the personal aspects of his life—his age, the number of children he has, where he went to school. But in spite of this intimate knowledge of him, you do not know Winston Churchill! For he would not turn to you and say "Good morning, Henry!" but would have to respond to your greeting in a general way, because Winston Churchill does not know you!

The analogy is so clear it would seem unnecessary to pursue it further. Do you possess only a head knowledge of Christ or do you have that about which the verse is speaking, a heart knowledge? For the Word of God declares "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thine heart that God has raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved, for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation, Romans, 10:9-10. We who possess this saving knowledge know it, "for His Spirit witnesseth with our spirit that we are the children of God." We are not born children of God. There is no divine spark within the natural man. It is not by a gradual process that we grow in likeness to Christ, but by the gracious work of the Holy Spirit in the souls of men when by His power, the uncreated life of God is imparted to the immortal soul of man so that he becomes a new creation in Christ Jesus.

This truth is clearly set forth for us in John 1:12-13, "But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His Name, which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God." It is not presumption on the part of a child of God, to say that he or she knows that they possess eternal life, for both the gospel of John and the first epistle of John were written with the express purpose that "they that believe might know that they have eternal life."

One reference must suffice "These things have I written unto you that believe on the Name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life and that ye may believe on the Name of the Son of God." 1 John 5:13.
